AZ allows the use of these codes only in medical care settings when the primary issue to be addressed is a physical health condition, and all services are provided by an Acute Care Health Plan, not the behavioral health system.  AZ uses these codes for pain management clinics where there are	99201-99205 99211-99215 99241-99245 99251-99255 99324-99328 99331-99333* 99334-99337	A0090 A0100 A0110 A0120 A0130 A0140 A0160 A0170 A0180 A0190 A0200 A0210 A0382 A0398 A0420 A0422 A0425-A0431 A0434-A0436 A0888 A0999 G0001 H0001 H0002 H0004 H0018-H0020 H0025 H0031 H0034 H0036-H0038 H0043 H0046 H2010-H2012 H2014-H2017 H2019 H2020 H2025-H2027

Level I CPT codes AMA searchable website: https://catalog.ama-assn.org/Catalog/cpt/cpt\_home.jsp

CPT 5-digit numeric codes, owned by the AMA, include:
Psychiatric codes (90801 – 90899),

Health Behavioral Assessment & Intervention (HBAI codes 96150 – 55), and Evaluation & Management (EM codes—4 categories):

Office: 99201 – 99215;

Consultation: 99241 – 99255;

Home care: 99324 – 99340; and

Preventive: 99381 - 99429.

The use of either HBAI or EM CPT Codes requires a primary physical health diagnosis. HBAI codes are for non-physicians who are MH specialists. EM codes are to be used only by physicians or physician extenders, such as primary care MDs.

To use EM codes, the physician would use the appropriate outpatient EM code with a primary ICD-9 mental illness diagnosis, such as 311 depressive disorder, 300.00 Anxiety disorder, 300.02 Generalized Anxiety Disorder.

Level II HCPCS codes beginning with letters A through

V are national codes; however, there are certain codes that Medicare does not pay for. For example, the S-codes are not recognized by Medicare; however, they are used by other third party payers (e.g., Aetna, Blue Cross/Blue Shield, Department of Defense, Humana, etc.).

Level II codes beginning with W, X, Y and Z are local State codes, and may vary from State to State.
